Report

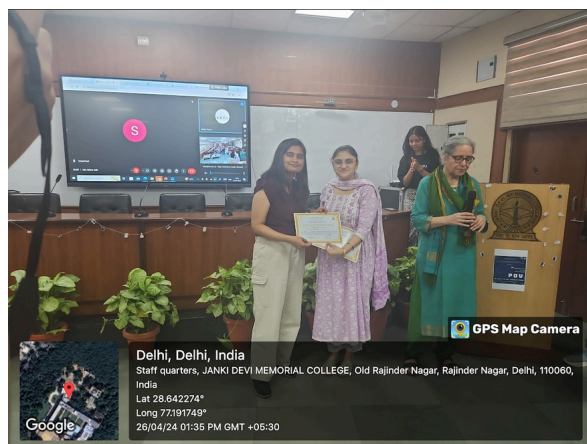

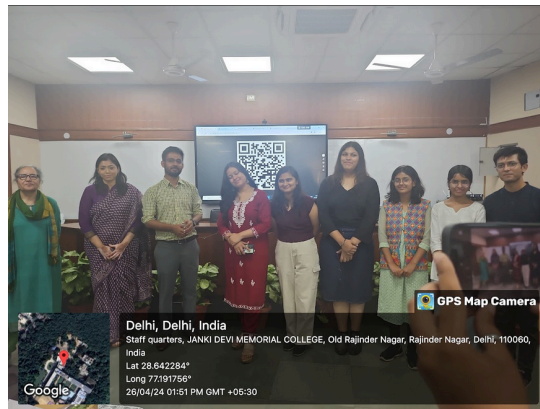

The Students' Research Unit, KHOJ, of Janki Devi Memorial College, University of Delhi organised its annual Inter-college Paper Presentation Competition, POV (Point of View), inviting entries from researchers located at different colleges on 26th April, 2024. It was a two round event conducted in a hybrid mode on the theme of "Immortality in the Metaverse". The event was judged by Ms. Ruth Shaw, the CEO of Thrive 360 and Mr. Manvijay Lather.

The competition started with the introductions of the faculty members, judges and panellists, and their felicitations. The event formally began with the declaration of rules. Consequently, the contenders were introduced and called to deliver their presentations. There were six contenders in total, who demonstrated their potential for research by analysing, evaluating, and critiquing various interdisciplinary topics centred around the given theme. Thereafter, the session was opened to questions from the judges and attendees. The session concluded with a Vote of Thanks to the Principal, Faculty, Judges as well as participants.

The List of Winners for the 2023 Paper Presentation Competition, PoV, are as follows:-

- 1st - Sukanya Datta; Janki Devi Memorial College.
- 2nd - Vikhyat Maheshwari and Srishti; National Law University, University of Petroleum and Energy Studies.

Session on Feminism and liberal theory

DATE: 22 November, 2023

TIME: 11:45 am onwards

VENUE: Room No 14

KHOJ, the Students' Research Unit of JDMC in collaboration with the Philosophy department Association and the Research Centre, organised the session on Feminism and Liberal theory on November 22, 2023 in Room No 14 at 11:45 am. The programme was attended by 1st, 2nd and 3rd year students from various departments as well as members of KHOJ. The session was conducted by respected Prof. Rakesh Chandra. Dr Gill extended a gracious welcome to Prof Rakesh Chandra, expressing profound gratitude for his distinguished presence.

Embarking on the session, Prof Chandra artfully navigated pivotal inquiries surrounding feminism, meticulously exploring the profound causes, subjugation, and lamentable exploitation endured by women. The evolution of feminism through equality, equity, and diversity phases was discussed, highlighting the tragic struggles of the Women's Suffrage Movement. The discourse unfolded into a comprehensive dissemination of feminism, seamlessly encompassing myriad facets of the movement and its profound implications.

This was followed by an enriching Q and A session, allowing participants to engage directly with Prof Chandra to further explore the complex themes discussed during the session.

The session concluded with a graceful felicitation extended to Prof Rakesh Chandra for his invaluable time and expertise, coupled with an expression of heartfelt gratitude towards KHOJ and the Philosophy Department for their discerning curation of this intellectually stimulating seminar.

The orientation program was attended by 90 people.

Objective- To meticulously examine the intersection of feminism and liberal theory, offering profound insights into feminist principles, historical challenges and evolving perspectives.

Learning Outcomes- The students gained valuable insights and knowledge on feminism and liberal theory enhancing their ability to critically analyse feminist ideologies.

Article Writing Competition of session 2023-24

Date :- 20th October, 2023

Time :- 11:45 a.m.

Venue :- Room no. 14

Khoj, The Students Research unit of Janki Devi Memorial College organised its first intra college article writing competition on 20th October 2023 at 11:45 a.m. on the topic 'The impact of AI on ethical decision making in healthcare'.

In the beginning of the event, all of the participants were familiarised with the rules, and further participants were asked to write an article on a given topic in bilingual while highlighting the following topic by turning their thoughts into words.

Overall, the competition took place with discipline, and everyone enthusiastically participated.

The event was attended by 20 people including khoj core members as well as participants of the competition.

Objective :- A good article enables us to produce information to potential audiences all across the world. The motive of the event was to make young minds know the importance of artificial intelligence's ability in decision making in the medical field.

Learning Outcome :- All volunteers enthusiastically participated and were able to present their views on paper.
