

National Webinar on Manual Scavenging and its Environmental Impact

Avani, the Environmental Club, JDMC, Delhi organised a webinar lecture under the aegis of the IQAC-Centre for Universal Values and Ethics on Manual Scavenging and its Environmental Impact as a part of Living Ethically with Nature Series (LENS) on December 16, 2022. The speaker for the webinar lecture was Dr. Bezwada Wilson, a Masaysay award winner and founder of the Safai Karamchari Andolan.

The webinar started with welcoming the speaker, Bizwada Wilson, Principal of the college, Prof. Swati Pal and Director, Centre for Universal Values and Ethics, Dr. Perna Arora.

In the webinar lecture Dr. Bezwada Wilson introduced the participants to the mechanism of manual scavenging and its severe implications on those involved in it. Further, he reflected on the Safai Karmachari Andolan and its efforts and aims to abolish the dehumanising practices of manual toilet cleaning and scavenging in India. The webinar lecture ended with a question-answer session and appeal to respect manual scavengers by the speaker.

JANKI DEVI MEMORIAL COLLEGE
UNIVERSITY OF DELHI

Avani: The Environment Club
Under the aegis of
IQAC- Centre for Universal Values and Ethics

Dr. Bezwada Wilson
(Founder, Safai Karamchari Andolan)

Cordially invites you to an inspiring session under LENS on

Manual Scavenging and its Environmental Impact

Meeting Id: 818 0234 6592

Passcode: 123456

Zoom

December 16, 2022

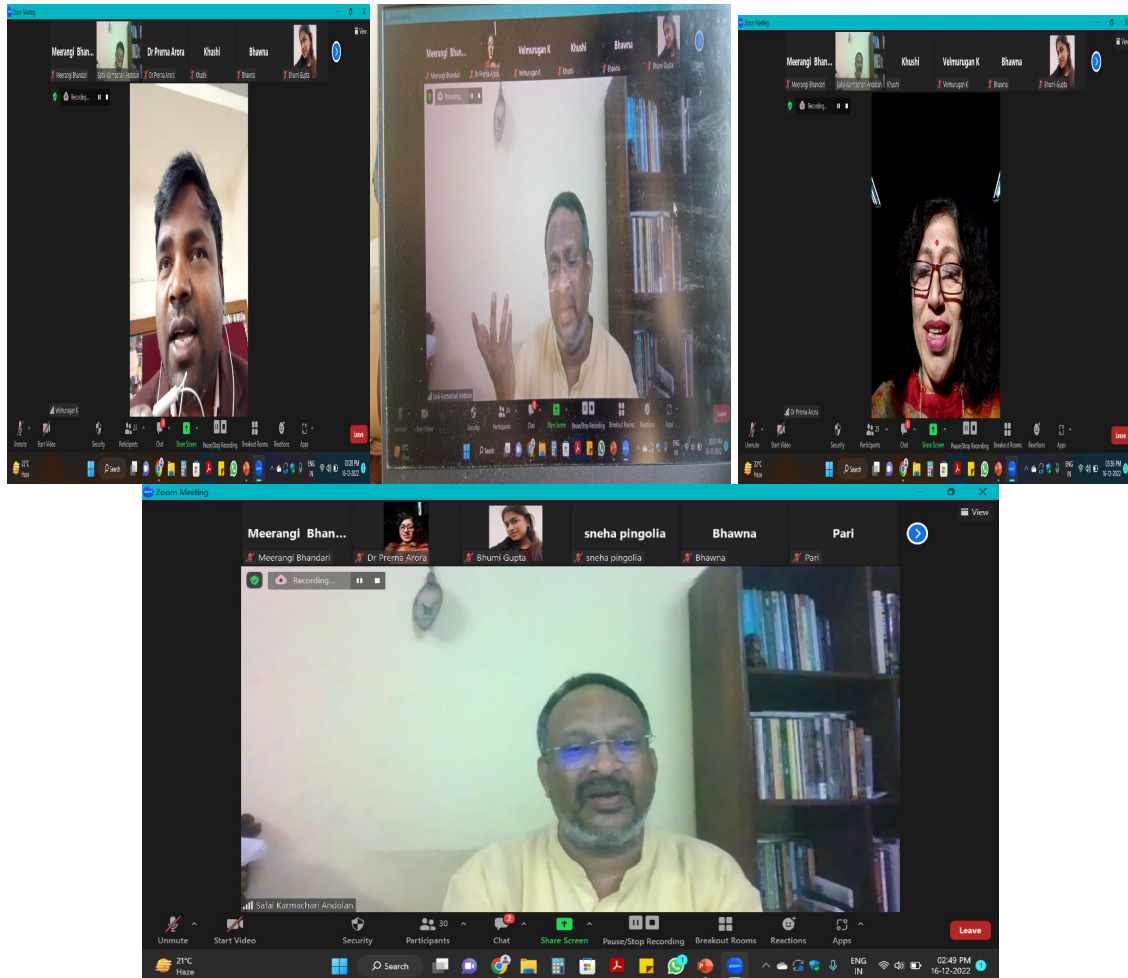

2:15 P.M

Ms. Bhawna Pal
Coordinator

Ms. Vandana Madan
Convenor

Dr. Perna Arora
Director

Prof. Swati Pal
Principal

National Webinar on Manual Scavenging and its Environmental Impact-December 16, 2022